Introduction

This resource includes a comprehensive collection of literacy and math worksheets designed for the beginning of first grade.

The activities provide valuable practice with important foundational skills while helping children become familiar with classroom routines and independent worksheet tasks. They are ideal for reviewing previously taught concepts, reinforcing current learning and identifying areas where children may need additional support.

The worksheets feature familiar school-themed pictures and a variety of engaging formats, including tracing, coloring, writing, matching, sorting and cut-and-paste activities.

HOW TO USE

Select the worksheets that best match the skills your children are currently learning or reviewing. The pages do not need to be completed in order, making it easy to differentiate the activities for individual children or groups.

These worksheets can be used for:

- Morning work
- Independent practice
- Literacy and math centers
- Small group instruction
- Skill review
- Early finishers
- Homework
- Informal assessment
- Substitute teacher activities

PREPARATION

Print the pages you would like children to complete. Most worksheets require only pencils or crayons, while selected activities also require scissors and glue.

For best results, select “Fit to Page” or a similar setting when printing on a different paper size.
