Introduction

This resource helps children practice reading and writing words through an engaging picture hunt. Use it as a Write the Room activity or a tabletop literacy center.

The packet includes 192 picture and word cards and 24 recording sheets, with eight pictures on each sheet. The words are mostly CVC words, with some other short words included. Sets are organized by focus letters, which may appear at the beginning, middle, or end of a word.

Preparation

Print the cards, laminate if desired, and cut them apart. Print the matching recording sheets. Store each set of cards with its recording sheet.

Choose words that match the phonics patterns your children have learned. Review unfamiliar picture names before beginning.

How to Use

Write the Room

Place the matching word cards around the classroom at children's eye level. Give each child a recording sheet, clipboard, and pencil.

Children find a card and read the word. They find the matching picture on their recording sheet and write the word beside it. Continue until all eight words are recorded.

Encourage children to say the sounds and blend them to read each word before writing it.

Tabletop Literacy Center

Place a set of cards in a small tub beside the matching recording sheets. Children take a card, read the word, find the matching picture, and write the word. Continue with the remaining cards.

Differentiation

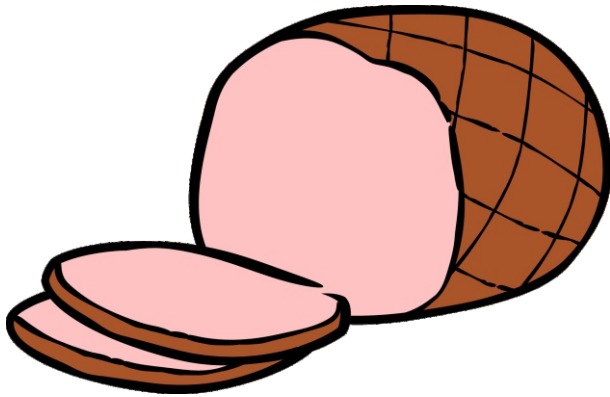

For extra support, read the words together before starting. Children can work with a partner or complete a few words at a time.

Give different groups different recording sheets to match their learning needs.

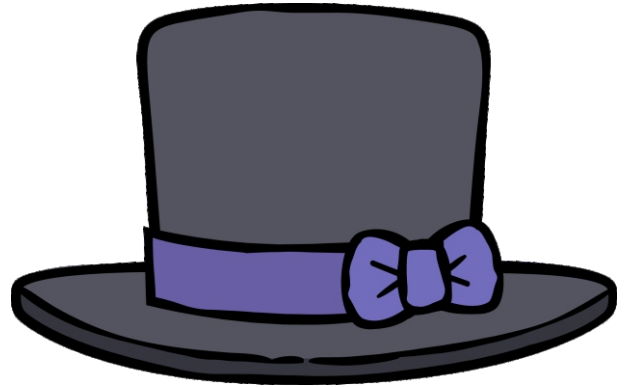

For independent spelling practice, use the recording sheets without the word cards. Children name each picture, say the sounds, and write the word. Provide the cards afterward so they can check their spelling.

For an extension, invite children to choose a word and use it in a spoken or written sentence.

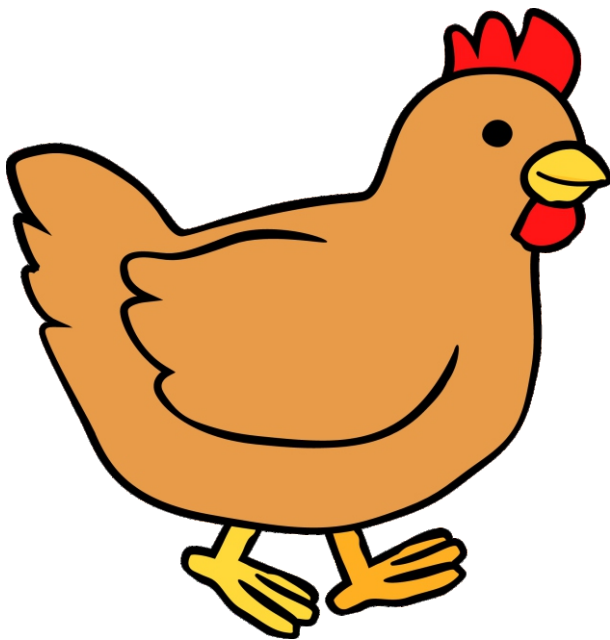

Happy Teaching! :)
