About This Resource

This editable paint palette activity provides matching practice with sight words, names, letters, and numbers for preschool, kindergarten, and first grade.

The resource includes 20 editable palette pages, each with six matching paint blots, plus a recording page, an "I Can" direction card, and a center label.

Directions for Editing

1. Download and save the PDF to your computer. Open it in the free Adobe Acrobat Reader desktop application.
2. Type a word, name, letter, or numeral into the editable field on each palette. The six matching paint blots automatically update with the same text.
3. Save your completed file and print the pages you need.

If the font does not display correctly, install KG Blank Space Solid, included in the KG Blank Space font download, then reopen your PDF. The font download is free for personal use.

Preparation

Print the selected pages, laminate them for durability, and cut out the palettes and paint blots. Use the pieces loose or attach hook and loop dots to the backs of the blots and their matching palette spaces.

For a clothespin version, glue each blot onto the top of a clothespin's gripping end, leaving the text visible and the handles free to squeeze.

How to Play

Introduce the focus words before independent practice. Students choose a palette, read its word, and find the paint blots displaying the same word. They read each matching word aloud and place or clip the blot over its corresponding colored space. Begin with a few palettes and add more as students become familiar with the activity.

More Ways to Play

- Build and write: Build each focus word with magnetic letters or letter tiles, then write it on the included recording page.
- Sensory bin search: Partly bury loose laminated blots in shredded paper. Students uncover a piece, read its word, and match it to a palette. Add easy squeeze tongs for picking up the pieces.
- Name matching: Personalize the palettes with student names and sort the matching name blots.
- Alphabet matching: Prepare separate uppercase and lowercase pages. Combine uppercase letter palettes with lowercase letter blots, such as A with a and B with b.
- Number matching: Match numbered blots to the corresponding numeral palettes. Extend with counting by placing the matching quantity of counters beside each palette.

Happy Teaching! :)
